

About the Author

STEVEN WILSON has over 25 years of project and program management experience. He has consulted to senior leaders and leadership teams in organizations ranging from Fortune 500 companies and start-ups to churches and non-profits. Steve is also President and Co-founder of Journey Training Institute, LLC. specializing in project management and leadership training, coaching and consulting for organizations and PMI® Chapters. Steve is the Principal Consultant and Lead Instructor on leadership, project management and team dynamics.

Steve is a featured keynote speaker on topics relating to leadership and the tactical and strategic areas of project management for organizations and project management events. He has strong expertise in both classroom and virtual project management training.

Steve is certified as a PMP, PMI-ACP, and CSM and has been a member of PMI since 2003. For 15+ years, he has successfully delivered CAPM®, PMP®, and PMI-ACP® Certification Exam Prep training throughout North and South America, Europe and Asia. His enthusiasm, knowledge, and experience make his classes educational, enjoyable and upbeat. Students have said that his extensive and varied, real-world experience is what sets him apart from other instructors.

Steve holds a Bachelor and Master of Science in Education and worked as a professional educator for 14 years.

Steve lives with his wife, Laura in Fairport, New York. Steve has two grown sons, Peter and Timothy who now live in Los Angeles and Buffalo respectively. You can reach Steve at the Journey Training Institute, LLC. Website at www.JourneyConsulting.org or email at SWilson@JourneyConsulting.org.